would not protect adequately the national. Thus, in the U.S. there is a sharing of authority to protect wildlife. The federal government can use