Childrens Literature Of The Harlem Renaissance

Katharine Capshaw Smith

Renaissance. Katharine Capshaw Smith. Bloomington: Indiana UP, 2004. 366 pages. $45.00 cloth. Moving from the Childrens literature of the Harlem Renaissance - Buffalo & Erie. These authors were working during a time known as the Harlem Renaissance, spanning from about 1919 to about 1935, when black artists, musicians, and writers deliberately set out to produce cultural materials that reflected the varied cultural, historical, and political interests of African Americans.
